INJURED INNOCENCE.

Abused and apparently under the impression that his character has been defamed, Frank Golden, better known as "dollar for dollar Golden," has made a statement to the Reno Journal, in which he seeks to place the blame of the recent attempt on his life on the shoulders of the editor of this paper. The absurdity of the statement is easily apparent to the people of southern Nye, but in the northern part of the state there are some who are in ignorance of the banker's methods, for strange as it may seem, not one of the dailies in Reno has yet printed an article relative to the existing conditions and previous methods of effecting a settlement of the affairs of the Nye and Ormsby county bank.

From the date the bank closed, nearly a year ago, the Bonanza has demanded that a showing be made of what became of the depositors' money.

We will state that we have not been successful, but our incessant demands have apparently angered the president of the institution. The first receivers of the bank were honest and conscientious men, business men well versed in the knowledge required to take charge of the bank, and not former railway ticket sellers, as was Hall, the protégé of Golden. Golden opposed the appointment of Ross and Mullen, after he had asked Judge Averell to appoint them, and finally secured the aid of the Carson district court and had Hall appointed in the stead of the original receivers.

Hall's showing is a glorious one, something he should be proud of, a record he can hand down to posterity. During his incumbency, he collected a few thousand of the depositors' dollars which were nearly all turned over to his attorneys, instead of to the depositors who are the rightful owners. But Hall was appointed with the sanction of Golden, and the banker has no right to make a kick. His interests were protected while the depositors' were allowed to be neglected.

And now Golden says his assailant was egged on. Ye, Gods, what ridicule. As if it is not of common knowledge that a number of men in this very city would like nothing better than to mix it with Frank Golden. They are business men who have had dealings with Golden, trusting in the belief that the banker was at least a man of his word. The best part of the joke is that Mr. Golden knows the attitude of the people of Tonopah, as is witnessed in his abbreviated stay on the last visit.

Golden seems to think that he has been harrassed by The Bonanza. What an idea! Why wouldn't cause Mr. Golden an uneasy minute for the life of us, but we have and will continue to demand that something intelligible be wrought from the tangled affairs of Golden's institution and that depositors be shown what become of their money. But to harrass Golden—and to stir up something against him—in the language of the old scholars, "a guilty conscience is a man's worst enemy."

Furthermore, we are accused of bearing malice. Frank, that is real rude of you and barring the fact that we do not speak as we pass by we bear malice toward none, but as we have said before, we are looking to the interests of the Nye and Ormsby depositors which you may have construed as mean ing malice.

As to records, we will state, that we have never used a dollar of other people's money to further our own ends. By this we refer to the loan made by the Nye and Ormsby county bank to the North Star company without a cent of security. Can you say the same?

HAPPY NEW YEAR.

Here's to the New Year and while the past one may not have been all that we may have wished for, and departed blustering as it is in a frenzy, there is consolation in the thought, that things could have been a great deal worse.

So here is hoping that 1910 will bring to us that what we missed in 1909. And that we have no great kick coming for in a way the old year has been pretty generous. During that time we have made friends and in this old world our friends are what count. No doubt we have made enemies, but it has been unintentional.

So here is to you, our friends, and our enemies; we wish you a happy and prosperous New Year, may fortune smile on you in the future and may the footprints of happiness ever be found around your house. God bless you all.

With the start of the New Year, the circulation department reports a great many new subscriptions for the San Francisco Bulletin and The Daily Bonanza. Both papers for the small price of $1.25 per month are a bargain so start the New Year right. The Bonanza has the circulation and also gives you the latest news from the world over occurring. The Associated Press news service is the greatest at the present time.
